Our New Rector -Official Announcement

The Bishop of Tonbridge is pleased to announce that The Revd Lorna Clair Faulkner is to be appointed the next Rector of the benefice of Coxheath, East Farleigh, Hunton, Linton and West Farleigh.

Of course, Lorna is very well known to the church family and wider community, having recently completed her curacy in the Benefice and where she has been covering the interregnum. She is looking forward to building on the opportunities she has had already to engage with parish councils, schools, groups and organisations across the five parishes, as well as developing deeper relationships with the church members in this new substantive post.

Lorna trained at St Augustine's, and before ordination was a teacher. Strengthening our links within the local community, including the schools, is important to her, so that all can be encouraged to experience a personal and deepening relationship with God.

Away from her priestly ministry Lorna enjoys reading, spending time with friends, and is hoping to get better at gardening.

Lorna is married to Rich, who is a teacher, and they have 3 older children – 2 adults and a teenager – all living at home still. They hope to move to the Rectory in September following Lorna's final Sunday on 18th September. Lorna will be taking a break before her Licencing on Monday 17th October 2022.

Please hold Lorna and the family in your prayers as they prepare to move and Lorna begins her new ministry in this place.

Pastoral Letter from Rev Lorna Faulkner

Ah, September. The season of mists and mellow fruitfulness is upon us. The month that ushers in the shifting of the seasons... The month I think I might just love the most. The orchards are being picked and packed. The blackberries are warm and sweet, nourished by the summer sun. I may need a cardigan in the morning but its barefoot paddling weather again by the afternoon.

And yet, on the furthest periphery of my emotional vision, barely within my grasp, is the oncoming hint of something else... Even as we soak in the warm glow of the afternoon sunshine, we feel the gentle chill now in the morning air, whispering to us of season's end... The gardens are just tipping over from the peak of summer glory, still beautiful but more rugged now.

My heart feels what my eyes can't yet see...
We know that in September, we will wander through the warm winds of summer's wreckage. We will welcome summer's ghost (Henry Rollins)
'Not so fast!' is the cry of my heart 'I'm not ready yet!' And yet, September still comes, lightly tapping on my shoulder, reminding me that things end - and things begin - whether I'm ready for them or not.

The writer of the book of Ecclesiastes wrestles with the human state – our limitations, our finiteness - and, in it, are some very well-known words of wisdom (often attributed to The Byrds!)

*To everything there is a season,
and a time for every purpose under heaven:
a time to be born and a time to die,
a time to plant and a time to uproot,
a time to kill and a time to heal,
a time to break down and a time to build,
a time to weep and a time to laugh,
a time to mourn and a time to dance,
a time to cast away stones and a time to gather stones together,
a time to embrace and a time to refrain from embracing,
a time to search and a time to count as lost,
a time to keep and a time to discard,*

*a time to tear and a time to mend,
a time to be silent and a time to speak,
a time to love and a time to hate,
a time for war and a time for peace.*

There is a time for everything. There is a time for summer. And a time for September. And so, as we embark on this new month and wander into this new season together, may we carry the warmth of summer with us and may we embrace the new adventure and joy of the season to come.
