Pastoral Letter from the Rector

You may be familiar with the classic children's story Pollyanna. In this charming tale, a young orphan, the child of missionaries, is sent to live with relatives in a small American town.

Pollyanna has a unique way of managing the things life throws at her. It's called the Glad Game. She chooses to find something to be glad about in every situation. Even being glad that she was punished by being given bread and milk in the kitchen with the maid instead of dinner – because she likes bread and milk - and she also likes the maid. She shares this philosophy with all sorts of folk in the town – including the more difficult ones – and even thaws the frosty heart of her strict guardian, Aunt Polly. When Pollyanna loses the uses of her legs in an accident, even she can't find anything to be glad about, but, slowly, the people whose lives she has brightened in the town come and see her and encourage her to rediscover her spark. She blesses them, and they bless her right back.

What a lovely message about the difference we can make to one another in our communities - if we make time to notice, to care and to engage. I want to encourage us to look around our village communities this month. What – and who - do we notice? What is there to be glad about? And how can we share that with others? Get a few neighbours together over a cup of something and chat about all the good things about your community (goodness knows we all spend enough time complaining about the things that aren't so great!)

I am writing the letter this month because I still haven't managed to get a rota out to the ministry team. And, do you know what? I am glad I was disorganised because I've cheered myself right up. Hoping for a positive and encouraging February for you all!
Lorna
